“ I met Tom when I was 19 years old and his was 22 at the Potpourri Social Club in 1986. I will never forget his infectious laugh and how much he truly cared about other people. When I think of all of the years I have known him he was a mental health advocate, a friend and a person with a gentle soul. After not seeing each other in several years, I got to spend time with him about 4 months ago and I could still see through those eyes the same person I remembered from so many years ago. My deepest sympathies go to his mother and the rest of his family.
