“ Nick loved to laugh and joke. He loved making others laugh. I'll never forget one family party he was in the kitchen and with the handle end of the broom scoops up a bra off the kitchen floor....he's like see. See what it's like living with all these girls..”WHO'S BRA IS THIS????” We laughed so hard. I don't remember who eventually claimed the bra but he was like see a bra in the kitchen on the floor, bras all over this damn house 😂!

Or how about the time Nick made me tip my nose to the ceiling so he could see up my nasal canal as he was amazed it was like my sisters and he could practically “see brain matter?”

I just remember his as always wanting to have fun, laugh and joke!

Nick, I hope you are at peace, I hope you are loving your mom, hanging with Dan and talking cars with my dad.

Stefano, Lori, Angela, Teresa, Bryanna, Aryanna, Antonella and Shannon, sending my love to you all during this hard time. Hugs & Love.

“ My heart hurts for this family. I've known Nick since high school. He lived a few houses down from me. Shannon babysat my kids and he was like a second father to my niece. So many memories to list. He will be missed so much. RIP my friend. Prayers to the family ❤️

“ There are endless favorite memories we’ve made together dad❤️ You’re one of my biggest supporters, always believing and encouraging my dreams, giving me the greatest of ideas and the realest advice and critiques I needed. I look up to your enthusiastic and passionate spirit. You saw beauty in the small things and encouraged the simple joys of life. What it all comes down to is love- Thank you for always being there for me. I love you

“ I remember going to the Catucci's house quite often as a kid. All of us kids ate Theresas italian food and we had so much fun together. I remember Nick and my brothers spending time together. I remember Nick and my husband talking quite often and he mentioned how much he loved his wife and kids. He was so proud of you'll.
